Don't Miss These New Speakers

Peter Rice, Managing Director/Founder of ClearPoint Advisors

An Indigenous People's Agribusiness & Forest Investment Strategy: A New Zealand Case Study

In addition to advising some of the largest global corporations on financial structuring and economic development (and personally advising the same for Britain's Labour Party), Peter is a board member representing the Te Arawa Tribe on the Federation of Maori Authorities in New Zealand. The Te Arawa Tribe now has kiwifruit, plantation forestry and property investments in New Zealand. Mr. Rice will address the same effective structuring, and investment options for indigenous peoples around the world.

Mark Campanale, Senior Advisor of Consilium Capital Partners

Are Major Investors Finally Exiting from Non-Sustainable or 'Unhealthy' Asset Classes?

Mr. Campanale is a London-based global expert on renewable investment opportunities. This asset class, which includes forestry and agri-business, has recently gained international attention, with media coverage around a $1 trillion Norwegian fund has sold down its oil and has stocks. Mr. Campanale's key perspective will provide insight into this growing trend and the alternative options for investors in the renewable asset class space.
