2017 DANA NZ Forest — Wood Products Conference

DANA is holding its annual Field Trip and Conference in Rotorua on August 21st and 22nd

The Field Trip has proved extremely popular with all available seats taken up very quickly, and we have had to close registrations for participation to any new delegates. However we have opened a wait list pending any cancellations. Those on this wait list (provided they have also registered to attend the 22nd August Conference day), that are not able to participate will get priority seats for the DANA 2018 Field Trip – which is likely to be around the Taupo area

The 12 presenters and panelists at the conference represent the finest line-up that DANA has yet been able to assemble at a New Zealand event. Politics will be a theme: With 3 Cabinet Ministers and 4 Political Party Forestry Spokespersons on the card. The conference is preceded by a reception on 21st August at which two nationally recognised political commentators will predict the outcome of the 2017 General Election, and why, (5 weeks before the event)

But there is a lot more, including top level presentations by:

- Marty Verry, Chairman, Red Stag Timber Company
- Malcolm Campbell, Mayor of Kawerau District Council [massive Chinese wood project]
- Gary Caulfield, CEO Xlam [major Australasian CLT manufacturer]
- Andres Katz, Global Chief Economist RMS [major USA based TIMO]
- Robert Green, CEO Timberlands [manager of the giant Kaingaroa Forest]
- Nigel Brunel, Director, Financial Markets, OMF [major carbon emissions and trading expert]
